Defendant FAST has alleged that Plaintiff incurred an obligation to pay money arising out of a transaction in which the money, property, insurance or services which are the subject of the transaction are primarily for personal, family or household purposes and is therefore a “debt” as that term is defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(5), namely, a repair bill for a transmission replacement for plaintiff’s personal vehicle that was originally owed to Kahului Trucking & Storage, that went into default in approximately October 1998, and which is allegedly owed in the approximate amount of $3,968.50.
7. The debt was allegedly sold to Maui Collection Service, Inc. (hereinafter “Maui Collection”) in approximately 2002.
8. The debt was consigned, placed or otherwise transferred to Defendant FAST for collection from Plaintiff in approximately November 2002.
9. The time period for reporting the debt as delinquent on Plaintiff’s credit report expired no later than December 31, 2006. See 15 U.S.C. § 1681c(c)(1).

date of first delinquency as November 2002 and the statement that this information would remain on Plaintiff's credit report until January 2009, be removed.
